INTRODUCTION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

“Heart Healthy Resources for Children and Youth: A Nutrition and Physical Activity Guide” was developed by the Education Committee of the Virginia Heart Disease and Stroke Alliance (VHDSA)*. The guide is designed to provide easy access to resources that promote opportunities for physical activity and good nutrition for children and youth; most resources are available online. The Guide will be beneficial to a wide range of audiences, including school personnel, PTAs, community organizations, families and physicians. Initially developed in 2006, the 2012 Guide is the second revision. It will be updated on an annual basis, or as needed based on the availability of new resources. The Guide is available online on the VHDSA website: <http://www.vhdsa.org>.

* About the Virginia Heart Disease and Stroke Alliance

The VHDSA was founded in 2001 when the Virginia Department of Health's Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Project received funding from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. The Alliance has members representing healthcare, faith-based groups, non-profits, government, private businesses and academic institutions. Membership also includes concerned citizens, such as heart disease and stroke survivors.

The mission of VHDSA is to provide a forum for communication and collaboration among heart disease and stroke prevention and control stakeholders, with the intent to reduce the burden of heart disease and stroke in Virginia.

NUTRITION AND PHYSICAL ACTIVITY:

A. GENERAL RESOURCES

The following list provides examples of community partnerships and organizations that offer programs and educational materials addressing nutrition and physical activity for youth.

Resource	Description	Website/Other Contact Information
Action for Healthy Kids (AHK)	AKH is the nation’s leading nonprofit and largest volunteer network fighting childhood obesity and undernourishment by helping schools become healthier places so kids can learn to eat right, are active every day and ready to learn. Game On! The Ultimate Wellness Challenge is an all-inclusive, fun and FREE event for 5th-8th grade students, parents, teachers, administrators, and others. The event integrates nutrition, physical activity and learning through a series of activity stations that will stimulate minds and bodies.	http://www.actionforhealthykids.org/about-us  http://www.actionforhealthykids.org/special_GameOn.php
Alliance for a Healthier Generation	The Alliance works to address one of the nation’s leading public health threats— childhood obesity. The goal of the Alliance is to reduce the prevalence of childhood obesity by 2015, and to empower kids nationwide to make healthy lifestyle choices.. This project also includes a Healthy Schools Program.	http://www.healthiergeneration.org  http://www.healthiergeneration.org/engine/renderpage.asp?pid=s011
American Heart Association	The AHA’s mission is to build healthier lives, free of cardiovascular disease. Their site contains numerous resources on heart disease, stroke, risk factors and other aspects of cardiovascular disease.	http://www.heart.org
The Body Positive	The Body Positive's mission is to implement educational programs that transform individual and societal beliefs about weight, body image, and identity. The result is a growing national movement of healthy, confident individuals contributing to positive change in the world.	http://www.thebodypositive.org/
Bright Futures	Bright Futures is a national health promotion initiative dedicated to the principle that every child deserves to be healthy and that optimal health involves a trusting relationship between the health professional, the child, the family, and the community as partners in health practice.	http://www.brightfutures.org/
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)	CDC collaborates with partners to create the expertise, information and tools that people and communities need to protect their health—through health promotion; prevention of disease, injury and disability; and preparedness for health threats.	http://www.cdc.gov
Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2010	These guidelines from the federal government promote evidence-based nutritional guidance to improve health, reduce the risk of chronic diseases, and reduce the prevalence of overweight and obesity through improved nutrition and physical activity.	http://www.cnpp.usda.gov/dietaryguidelines.htm

California Project LEAN:	California Project LEAN (Leaders Encouraging Activity and Nutrition) is a joint program of the California Department of Health Services and the Public Health Institute focusing on youth empowerment, policy and environmental change strategies, and community-based solutions. Its mission is to increase healthy eating and physical activity to reduce the prevalence of obesity and chronic diseases.	www.CaliforniaProjectLean.org
Health Bites	This website offers tools to help families be healthy, including videos, games and more resources that promote good nutrition, exercise and other healthy lifestyle choices.	http://www.vahealth.org/DCN/HealthBites/welcome.htm
Healthy Virginians Initiative:	The Healthy Virginians program works to promote healthy lifestyles in workplaces, schools and among families who receive health care through Medicaid. With public and private partners from around the state and beyond, Healthy Virginians wants to make people the healthiest they can be.	www.healthyvirginians.virginia.gov
Local School Wellness Policy:	Local wellness policies are an important tool for parents, local education agencies (LEAs) and school districts in promoting student wellness, preventing and reducing childhood obesity, and providing assurance that school meal nutrition guidelines meet the minimum federal school meal standards.	http://www.fns.usda.gov/tn/Healthy/wellnesspolicy.html
Lunch Well. Choose Well:	This simple nutrition program focuses on helping people make the best food choices no matter where their lunch comes from—home, a restaurant, drive-through, cafeteria or convenience store.	www.anthem.com/lunchwell
North Carolina Health Schools	NC Healthy Schools focuses on improving the health of students and staff by providing coordination and resources in eight component areas of school health. In healthy schools, children are more alert, more focused on learning, miss less school, and learn lifelong healthy behaviors to prevent the leading causes of death.	http://www.nchealthyschools.org
North Carolina: Physical Education is . . . ACTIVE	This web site keeps teacher, coaches, athletic trainers, parents and students informed about physical education, health education, athletics and sports medicine in North Carolina and the nation.	http://www.ncpe4me.com
United States Department of Agriculture: Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion (CNPP)	CNPP works to improve the health and well-being of Americans by developing and promoting dietary guidance that links scientific research to the nutrition needs of consumers. CNPP is an agency of USDA's Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services . Links include My Plate, Choose My Plate, Choose My Plate for Kids, and the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.	http://www.cnpp.usda.gov
Team Nutrition website	Team Nutrition is an initiative of the USDA Food and Nutrition Service to support the Child Nutrition Programs through training and technical assistance for foodservice, nutrition education for children and their caregivers, and school and community support for healthy eating and physical activity.	www.teamnutrition.usda.gov
How to Understand and Use the Nutrition Facts Food Label	This website contains helpful information that makes it easier for people to use nutrition labels to make quick, informed food choices that contribute to a healthy diet.	http://www.cfsan.fda.gov/~dms/foodlab.html
